

BrightStar Care, a Home Care and Medical Staffing Company Launches Free Caregiver Support Technology

Their newest product, CareTogether, is a free online community that brings all the tools together for family caregivers to provide outstanding care for their loved ones.

Online PR News â€“ 29-April-2011 â€“ BrightStar Care announced exciting news today emphasizing their commitment to innovation and continuing their pursuit of providing support for caregivers and helping families all around the world.

Â

Their newest product, CareTogether was introduced this week as part of the companys CEO appearing on CBSs hit reality television series Undercover Boss. The website, which is available to anyone, anywhere absolutely free, provides caregiver resources and allows families to build online support networks.

Â

Jayson Pearl, Sr. Vice President of Marketing and Franchisee Onboarding said this is a thrilling time for us. Were the first to launch an online solution for family caregivers that is completely private and secure, and one that has numerous tools so that families can share, laugh, and care for one another as a team.

Â

Mr Pearl went on to describe the ease of getting started, due to the system working with popular platforms that family caregivers use every day, such as Facebook, Microsoft Outlook and Google Calendar. "We know how busy family caregivers are and wanted to create a unique solution that fits with communication and scheduling tools that they already use to stay connected - but with specific tools to provide great care."
