College Application Training, the "Fastest Way to a Great College Application," launches new website (www.CollegeApplicationTraining.com) and presents "Jump Start" Seminar on Saturday, May 21, 2011 from 9am to 3pm at Loyola Marymount, Pereira Hall, Room 140, 1 LMU Drive, Los Angeles, CA 90045 for college bound students.

Online PR News "13-May-2011" Los Angeles, CA, May 11, 2011 -- College Application Training, the "Fastest Way to a Great College Application," announced today that they have launched a new website at www.CollegeApplicationTraining.com, and will be presenting the Jump Start Seminar on Saturday, May 21, 2011 at Loyola Marymount University, according to Managing Director, Chelsea M. Hackett.

Â

"We are very excited about the launch of our new website and the "Jump Start" seminar," said Chelsea. "The website will allow students and parents to sign up for our services quickly and easily, and the Jump Start seminar is a great way for students to get a head start on applying to college in the fall."

Â

The "Jump Start" seminar is a one day event which explains all of the components of the college application process, each one broken down to its essential elements to de-mystify the process and de-stress the students. During the seminar, students will learn tricks to immediately raise their test scores; develop a "Personal Portfolio" to use as a foundation for the essays, interviews, and short answer questions; create a manageable "Action Plan" for completing the applications ahead of deadline; and discover how to get over the paralyzing fear of not knowing how to begin an essay. In just six hours, students will learn everything they need to create great college applications in a fast and efficient manner without the process taking over their lives. The cost is $99 per student, and each student can bring a guest for free.

College Application Training is managed by Chelsea M. Hackett, who has over 20 years experience with the college application process. She attended the University of Southern California (USC) on a merit scholarship and graduated Magna Cum Laude and Phi Beta Kappa with a dual degree in International Relations and French, and obtained an MFA in screenwriting from USC's School of Cinematic Arts where she was the recipient of various accolades including the Mary Pickford, Frank Sinatra, USC Associates and Women in Film scholarships. By combining organizational skills learned from juggling multiple scripts and productions to her SAT/ACT prep and essay coaching, Chelsea designed a program to train students to create great college applications with minimum stress and maximum individuality. Using these techniques, her students have been accepted to USC, UCLA, NYU, GWU, and Columbia University, among others.
