Â

The free Punters Paradise Futurity Stakes form guide, which offers a unique Easy Selections tipping menu to help improve strike-rate, contains detailed statistics for every horse and jockey in this years exciting field.

Â

Among the Futurity Stakes form facts that have helped position the favourites to win and place include:

Â

- The Nash Rawiller ridden King Mufhasa, winner of the Toorak Handicap (1600m) at Caulfield during his last start on Australian soil, will be seeking the ninth Group One victory of his impressive career.

Â

- The Craig Williams ridden Pinker Pinker who won the $3million Cox Plate last up in October, will be carrying 57kgs, which is 2kgs lighter than both King Mufhasa and Playing God.

Â

- The Steven Parnham ridden Playing God, a two time winner of the Group One Kingston Town Classic, is fresh off a third place finish to Black Caviar in the C F Orr Stakes.

Â

Other key Futurity Stakes form facts include:

Â

- Three out of the past five Futurity Stakes have been won by mares- Aqua D'Amore (2007), Typhoon Tracy (2010) and More Joyous (2011). Pinker Pinker is the only mare in this year's field.

Â

- The last three jockeys to have won a Futurity Stakes all have rides this year. A list that includes Nash Rawiller in 2011 wholl be riding King Mufhasa, Luke Nolan in 2010 wholl be ridding Doubtful Jack and Craig Williams in 2008-2009 wholl be riding Pinker Pinker.
