Under the guidelines set forth by their lending partners, Military Loans Connection is able to serve customers within the continental United States as well as abroad. Their lending guidelines include one hundred percent financing, ninety days same as cash options and no money down. In certain situation Military Loans Connection is able to process Loans Applications with No Credit Check. "We believe this will encourage greater spending power for our hard working and dedicated active duty military." stated CEO Bruce Gunter. In addition Gunter said "our programs can also be helpful in those cases where credit is an issue, by offering a logical path to rebuild credit." The new trend in online lending has led to the proliferation of many confusing choices and dead ends for those consumers looking for practical military loans solutions. By associating with multiple lending partners, Military Loans Connection helps prevent falling into the predatory trap associated with short term lenders such as pay day and car title loan stores. We only work with Military Lenders that subscribe to the FDIC Small Loan Guidelines as well as the Military Lending Act of 2007. This kind of versatility and quality control is rapidly becoming a popular alternative to the traditional military loans protocols.
