

Brazilian Beauty and Brand Ambassador For Parvati Lifestyle Salon & Spa Featured In GQ India

Paula Medeiros, a stunning Brazilian model and also co-founder and the brand ambassador for Parvati Lifestyle Salon & Spa in New Hyde Park, NY grants GQ an interview in which she talks about how men should approach women.

Online PR News "24-September-2012" Paula Medeiros, with her sultry Brazilian looks is the epitome of exotic and a perfect personification of the Parvati Goddess. As brand ambassador of Parvati Lifestyle Salon & Spa, Paula is the face of the salon, appearing often in their promotional videos and campaigns.

Â

Parvati Lifestyle Salon & Spa is a rewards-based lifestyle membership salon and spa located in New Hyde Park, Long Island. They offer services such as waxing, threading, facials, makeup and hair cutting and styling, to name just a few. With their unique membership program and one of a kind five step brow management service, ThreadLogic, this salon is one to look out for if it isn't on your radar yet.

Â

Thanks to Parvati Lifestyle, Paula is always impeccably groomed. So much so that she complains men have a tendency to shower her with compliments and cheesy pickup lines often.

Â

If I hear a compliment like hey sexy, I just ignore them. The best way to win a girl is to approach her as though you're not interested. Earn her friendship first.

Â

Paula speaks five languages- Portuguese, English, Spanish, French and Italian- no doubt a product of her having to work and live in countries where each of these languages are spoken. Everywhere I go, I focus on picking up the language. It's great to be able to communicate with the locals.

She began working in Italy at the age of 18, moving on to Portugal, Spain, the UK and finally, the USA where she now lives in New York City.

Â

When asked about what most men don't get about women, she replies Men don't believe in female intuition and don't take our advice seriously. Paula is also confident enough to share with GQ one of her most embarrassing moments- In New York this summer, I came out of a ladies room with my skirt caught in my panties. Most women would be afraid to admit to it but not Paula.

Â

This is what every woman aspires to be- Intelligent, strong, sharp, intuitive and confident. This is why Paula Medeiros is our Parvati Goddess. This is what Parvati Lifestyle Salon & Spa aspires to instill in their customers- positivity, self confidence and self assurance. When you look your best, you feel your best, and when you feel your best, you know youre ready to take on the world.
