

Zeemo To Create Fantastic New Look For PSG Architects

The PSG team decided to contact web design agency, Zeemo, with the aim of getting a brand new look.

Online PR News "02-April-2013" PSG Architects are a company based in the Melbourne suburb of Caulfield that believes in building strong relationships with their clients and in meeting their expectations at all costs. The dedicated team possesses a wealth of experience in design, construction and management, ensuring that they only produce architecture of superior quality and attention to detail. Some of the services that they are able to provide their clients include: master planning, feasibility studies, building analysis, building refurbishment, tendering and contract/construction administration. They are able to work with residential, commercial and retail projects of all types.

Â

After coming to the conclusion that their current website was more than a little out of date, the PSG team decided to contact web design agency, Zeemo, with the aim of getting a brand new look. They explained their desire to work with high end clientele and their belief that their current website simply wasn't going to attract these sorts of clients. It was quickly decided that the stunning designs and architecture completed by PSG needed to be showcased in the website and that everything else could be relatively simple.

Â

The creative team at Zeemo took all of this information on board and has begun working on a fantastic new look for the team at PSG. Whilst the designs are still in their early stages, it is clear that the work completed by PSG is the feature with everything else being arranged around these images. The home page, for example, features a stunning banner with 5 images that visually depict each of the main services that the company offers. Mousing over these images reveals a little information on the service; clicking will take you directly to the page. Red, which is used predominately in the logo, has also been featured in the website as an accent and highlight colour for dramatic effects.

Â

Zeemo are a web design company based in the Melbourne suburb of Clayton that is dedicated to providing their clients with the A-Z of online solutions. The team is highly experienced in their respective fields, allowing them to provide their clients with the absolute best. Some of the services that Zeemo are able to provide include: online marketing, graphic design, search engine optimisation (SEO), mobile application development and photography. The team has worked with a wide variety of clients across Australia and is proud to have some 'big names' under their belts.

Â

Media Information

Sukhbir Mehla

webmaster@zeemo.com.au

<http://www.zeemo.com.au>

Suite C9, 756 Blackburn Rd

Clayton

Victoria

3168
Australia