

Uppgroup Inc Announces New Marketing Project For Kevin Glover, a Red Deer Realtor

Uppgroup Inc. has been assisting Kevin Glover, Red Deer realtor for the past few years and has entered a new phase of development with Kevin to aggressively promote and expand the online presence of his real estate portfolio.

Online PR News “21-June-2013” Uppgroup Inc. recently announced the re-launching of the new website for Kevin Glover: www.kevinglover.ca, who is a realtor working with the Royal LePage Network Realty Corp in Red Deer, Alberta. The project was started by Uppgroup Inc. along with Kevin Glover and his team on the improvement of their online presence in the central Alberta region. During the entire process, Uppgroup Inc. basically streamlined the process so that the clients can easily find the real estate listings of Kevin Glover. Additionally, Uppgroup Inc. primarily constructed the website and integrated remarkable improvements over time and eventually was tested out.

Â

The real estate website by Kevin Glover was specifically designed to feature the skills of his team as well as showcase potential clients that working with the team will maximize the real estate status. The website features the remarkable listings available in the Red Deer region. It showed that Uppgroup Inc. has established their outstanding skills in effectively positioning the website of their clients for the best results in the long run. The website of Kevin Glover enables clients to browse through the listings while at the same time enjoy faster and positive results. Due to the advanced online property search system, it allows individuals to find their ideal property in a quick and simple manner.

Â

With the help of the website by Uppgroup Inc. it enables potential clients to easily check on the homes that are available in certain areas as well as the price range that they want. All the real estate have been listed are appropriately featured in order to make the presentation a lot easier. The clients will have a great experience when it comes to selling or buying a home. The main objective of the re-launch is to enhance the accommodation for potential buyers in finding the ideal homes in the listings. In every area in central Alberta, there is categorization for fast search in the listings. In case buyers are in search for a specific home in a particular area, they can get the results they need instead of scanning down through several listing entries that are not relevant.

Â

Kevin Glover is considered as a recognized figure in real estate. This is due to his exceptional skill and expertise in selling houses as well as maintaining high standards. Overall, he is an outgoing and friendly individual and makes sure that he provides the best as well as searching for a highly profitable outcome for the clients. Throughout the process, Kevin Glover will share his knowledge in the industry and will keep others fully informed.

Â

With the newly improved website for Kevin Glovers real estate business, it effectively promoted the online presence of his real estate portfolio through the improvement of the real estate listings presented in the website. Aside from the listings, the website also showcases the skills, expertise and what the team of Kevin

Glover can provide to their clients. Working with Uppgroup Inc. has greatly improved the capability to reach out to individuals in the online market as well as providing an easy to browse listing for real estate properties.
