The UK's largest cruise agent prepares for a gleaming website with fresh and innovative consumer based ideas.

Online PR News "25-June-2013" Cruise Direct have long been the UK's favourite for cheap cruises and holidays, and they've received many accolades as well as a huge following from consumers.

Â

Their website has been recognised as an industry standard for many years, boasting the fastest cruise search in the business, and an impressive 30,000+ cruises all available for online bookings.

Â

Now, the industry-leading team are creating a new, fresher website with more intuitive features and a host of great consumer-focused innovations - including a groundbreaking filter which can find a specific cruise in as little as two clicks!

Â

Cruise Direct have regularly made the news for their outstanding achievements in the travel and tourism industry, having been proud winners of the Sunday Times Top 100 Companies to work for in 2010, 2011 & 2012.

Â

As the largest cruise agent in the UK, Cruise Direct have over 800 employees working from 44 stores across the British Isles. Within this team are some of the best web developers and online marketers in the industry. With all that talent and experience, the new Cruise Direct website is sure to be a stunner!

Â

The new website is expected to be ready during July 2013.
