PODS of Wisconsin teams up with performing arts benefit event, UPAF Ride for the Arts sponsored by Miller Lite

Online PR News â€“ 21-May-2014â€“ PODS of Wisconsin has been a proud sponsor of the popular recreational cycling event, the United Performing Arts Fund Ride for the Arts, sponsored by Miller Lite, since 2011. The event will take place on Sunday, June 1, to raise money for more than 30 performing arts organizations. The money collected by UPAF is critical to keep the general operations running, enabling the groups to continue to bring outstanding entertainment and educational outreach to the community.

PODS containers will serve as command posts called Oasis Stations that provide a safe, secure option for storing station supplies such as water, Gatorade and food along the routes of the ride for cyclists to refuel in the middle of the ride. Since PODS containers are large and highly visible, it allows the event to instruct cyclists and spectators to look for them as guides to great viewing locations.

The UPAF Ride for the Arts, sponsored by Miller Lite, is one of the nations largest one-day recreational bike rides. Over 275,000 participants have joined in the Ride for the Arts since it began in 1981, generating more than $8 million in funds to support 15 UPAF Member Groups and numerous smaller Affiliates. The Ride features 5, 12, 25, 40 and 66-mile routes that utilize Milwaukee's Lakefront, the Hoan Bridge, and other notable landmarks.

This is our third year partnering with the UPAF Ride for the Arts by providing our storage and logistical expertise at no charge, said John Hudson, managing partner of PODS Wisconsin. Our secure storage containers are ideal for this type of job as they eliminate the need to load and unload trucks and trailers multiple times. They also provided security and protection from the weather for the volunteers and supplies while the rides are underway.

About PODS of Wisconsin
