Protective equipment company recently announced the continuation of its Green Our Earth Comfort Our Friends initiative.

Online PR News â€“ 28-October-2017â€“ Adenna LLC, a protective equipment distributor based in Southern California, recently announced it will continue its charitable Green Our Earth Comfort Our Friends initiative. Adenna stated that this initiative is a partnership with both American Forests and Feeding America, and is intended to feed the hungry, while also improving the environment. Adenna announced that, for every order the company processes and ships big or small it plants a tree and serve 10 meals to people in need.

Â

Adenna went on to provide some information about its partner, American Forests. The company stated that American Forests is the oldest nonprofit national conservation organization that advocates for the protection and expansion of forests globally. Adenna went on to state that American Forests has planted more than 45 million trees around the world since 1990. Adenna explained that, by participating in American Forests Global ReLeaf program, its donations will help plant thousands of trees each year. Adenna stated that it is excited to further their work with American Forests.

Â

Adenna also provided some information about its other partner in its Green Our Earth Comfort Our Friends campaign, Feeding America. Adenna announced that Feeding America is the nations largest domestic hunger-relief charity. Adenna went on to state that Feeding America has a network of over 200 foodbanks across the country, and that its continued partnership with Feeding America will provide thousands of nutritious meals to individuals and families who are in need. Adenna stated that, contrary to the popular misconception, hunger is not relegated to small pockets of American society. Adenna stated that millions of Americans struggle with hunger, and its partnership with Feeding America will help alleviate that problem.
